BEKKERING ADAMS ARCHITECTS WWW.BEKKERINGADAMS.NL

Architecture is more than just the built environment. Architecture must seduce and surprise to achieve something more than the sum of its parts. Architecture is the search for the revelation that a physical experience of space can summon: a sensory and emotional experience, the discovery of continuously changing views and uses of the building. Enriching architectural metaphors and interpretations, to know and to identify, is the starting point for our work. Layering is searched for in all designs. Functionality, context, durability, experience, and materialization: the various layers are presented to each other in the design.
